The Language of Instrumental Music (TLIM)

Testimonials

"I never thought I could learn how to play a second instrument so quickly.

Tim is an excellent teacher and extremely knowledgeable about music. I had a blast attending his adult music performance class, The Language of Instrumental Music. His approach is versatile, and he is able to cater to both beginners and experienced musicians alike. When it comes to innovative approaches to music education, there is no one better than Tim Byrnes."

-Alex, pro-level pianist learning bass

"Taking The Language of Instrumental Music was exactly what I needed to reopen musical exploration in my life. Tim does an excellent job laying the foundation of music theory in a way that brings it to life and is a lot of fun. There was a helpful balance between participation, information, and observation. I also have a better understanding of music beyond my instrument of choice after taking this class (just check out Tim's instrument collection and music library!). Taking this class helped take the pressure off of returning to formal music study after a long hiatus. The open, sharing atmosphere and encouragement of collaboration between fellow students was my favorite part. Thank you! "

-Sonia, adult student

"Mr. Byrnes really loves all things music, and that is what makes him such a great and knowledgeable teacher! Taking his class helped me reignite old abilities and appreciation for music, as well as learn new techniques and perspectives. Highly recommended!"

-Colleen, adult group guitar

"I loved your music class. I would tell anyone about it who was looking to learn music, and as a first time picking up a musical instrument, I have learned a lot and i really enjoyed myself! The layout of the class was awesome... everyone felt included, no matter what their level or experience. It was amazing."
