

The Language of Instrumental Music

The Language of Instrumental Music (TLIM)
Accepting students now!
Course schedules TBD by interest.

Times of Refreshing Christian
Center / Funkadelic Studios
209 W. 40th Street
Ground Floor / 5th Floor
New York, NY 10018
www.hazel-rah.net

The Language of Instrumental Music (TLIM) is a class for beginner adult musicians who have some knowledge of instrumental music, but may have been confined to traditional classical lessons, school band, or orchestra; or beginner adult musicians who have no prior experience with music-making or instrument-playing.

TLIM is designed to help musicians fuse the fun of performance, music theory, composition, and improvisation into a consolidated expressive package.

Class topics will include the basic principles of pitch, rhythm, instrumental construction, sound production, reading notation, improvisation, and composition.

We utilize the format of instrument-specific small group classes (keyboards with keyboards, violins with violins, etc.), and mixed instrument ensembles.

Email for more information about tuition rates and schedule.

Contact and Registration:
therealmrbyrnes@gmail.com